We are concluding the 3rd week of the legislative session. The last 4 days were filled with over 200 bills being filed and subcommittee work picking up in earnest. Today marks the halfway point to the first legislative funnel. The funnel is a legislatively imposed deadline that requires bills, with tax and appropriation bills being the exception, to pass one committee to remain viable. As the funnel approaches, committee and subcommittee work will increase. Debate activity will mostly begin after week 6. We expect to see the Governor’s priority Invest in Iowa bill next week or early the following week.

Bills on the Move

Several bills moved out of subcommittee and a handful were voted out of full House or Senate committees this week. A few bills of note were the following:

- Telehealth. HF 2001 passed the House Human Resources committee this week. The bill creates payment parity for telehealth services provided by providers who are billing private insurance. The bill passed unanimously.
- Emergency Medical Services. HSB 508 moved through subcommittee and provides that the tax receipts collected from fantasy sports betting go to provide funding for emergency medical services. This bill is now eligible for full committee consideration.
- Cell Siting Act. HSB 516 moved through the House Commerce committee and moves the date of the repeal of the Iowa Cell Siting Act to 2025. The bill passed the committee on a 20-1 vote.
- Sports Wagering Funds HSB 508 moved out of subcommittee this week. The bill moves the entirety of the sports wagering dollars to rural EMS support.

House and Senate Release K-12 Education Funding Proposal

K-12 funding is one of the first budget pieces that is legislatively required to be set within the first 30 days of session. The House and Senate released their proposals via bills and communication releases. The Senate released their proposal on Wednesday which will increase funding by $91.7M annually. This represents a 2.1% increase, which can be seen in their bill released this week, SSB 3096.

Majority Leader Jack Whitver (R – Ankeny) said, “This proposal will provide $91.7 million in new funding for K -12 education. The total increase in K-12 funding will be more than 300 million new dollars since FY 2017. That record stands in stark contrast to the days of overpromising and underdelivering during Democrat control of state government. They promised hundreds of millions of dollars in new spending only to cut K-12 funding by $65 million,” said Senator Jack Whitver, R – Ankeny.

“Senate Republicans have fully funded every K-12 education funding promise we have made each year in the majority.”

Additionally, the House released HSB 587, which provides a 2.5% K-12 funding increase, which is four-tenths higher than the Senate proposal. Majority Leader Matt Windshitl released a statement on the proposal which said, “To put these numbers in perspective, here is how investment in K-12 has increased compared to inflation since 2011. K-12 funding has increased by 35.3% while standard inflation, measured by the Midwest Consumer Price Index, has only increased by 13.47%. These numbers show that while there are many budgetary priorities for House Republicans, education funding is at the top of the list... It is too early in session to predict what the final increase in funding will be, however we are committed to looking at not just the SSA number but also transportation costs and the statewide per pupil funding inequities that many school districts face.”

Although a final number hasn't been agreed to, we will likely see the chambers split the difference between the House and Senate proposals.

Iowa Supreme Court Justice Appointed

This week, the Governor Reynolds appointed Dana Oxley to the Iowa Supreme Court She fills the position left vacant left by the death of Chief Justice Mark Cady. Her appointment makes her the second woman on the Iowa Supreme Court. The current supreme court justices can be found here. There will be another vacancy to be filled with the retirement of current Chief Justice Wiggins.

Governor Reynolds said, “Dana Oxley is an exceptional lawyer with a uniquely Iowa story. She will be a valuable new addition to the Iowa Supreme Court. I look forward to watching her serve Iowans in this important role for years to come.”

Oxley practiced law at Shuttleworth & Ingersoll in Cedar Rapids and serves as an adjunct law professor at the University of Iowa College of Law. Previously, she served as a career law clerk for Judge David Hansen of the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals. She received her JD from the UI College of Law and her undergraduate degree from the University of Northern Iowa. In the News
